One of the reporters of that paper has been making personal visits to varions employment and intelligence offices in different parts of the city, and says that they are all conducted by persons of good character, and that ARLINGTON, - NEW JERSEY none of those complaints so common about the fraternity of Gotham are heard. He found the outlook far gloomier than he at first anticipated. In every office, pale, wan, but decently clad applicants, of every age, color and rationality, desiring only a good home for the winter, were found occupying the chairs ranged round the room, each eager for the appearance of "a call," Some carried bundles, with their "httle" all tied within, while a lew, who had MONTCLAIR come early to get the best chances, had brought their breaktast, and sat quietly munching their bread and butter, ever RAPID TRANSIT. and anon anxiously looking towards the door at the sound of a falling foot-

Failures among merchants, and the total or partial suspension of work in large and small factories, has tended to throw upon the market a class of girls of far more than ordinary intelligence, who have no other means than that ofhousehold service for obtaining a livelihood during the approaching winter. This augmentation of the ranks has tended to a corresponding reduction of wages, so that, in fact, good help can now be obtained at any reasonable strict and exacting as ever.
